GOOD TO KNOW

In Saxony-Anhalt, there live around 2,000 Jews, which corresponds to around 0.1% of the state's population.

The major part come from the CIS states and not all of them are member of a community.

The three focus points for Jewish life in Saxony-Anhalt are located in Magdeburg, Halle (Salle) and Dessau/Rosslau.

Project „Stolpersteine“: special cobblestones created in memory of deported Jews. In Magdeburg, you will find more than 650 so-called “Stolpersteine” in the streets; in Schönebeck around 80.

Magdeburg is currently building a new synagogue. The groundbreaking ceremony took place in May 2022; the new synagogue will be finished by the end of 2023.
